Life After Death

When we stop and think about it, none of us are strangers to death. It is all around us, in us and part of our daily lives. We see it in nature when the seasons change, when summer turns to winter, when daylight dies to darkness. Each of us experience small deaths as we grow older and change from day to day. We read the newspapers to know about our neighbor's death. We grieve and mourn our friends and loved ones when they die. But we would rather not think about our own death. We wonder if we will have the courage, the faith, the grace and the heart to meet our God face to face.

That is what the story of Lazarus is all about. We belong to the Lord. First of all the story again reminds us that there is life after death. It tells us that Jesus is Lord of all life. Secondly, in the conversation that Jesus had with Mary and Martha, we learn that resurrection is not so much a matter of our faithfulness to all the rules and regulations, but rather the Father's faithfulness to His word, to His promise of life everlasting as shown in the Resurrection of His Son. Jesus is the first born of the dead. And where He is, there we also will be. God, Our Father, has sent His son to tell us that life is so good, so beautiful, and so precious that not even death can overcome it. Jesus is our life and our resurrection. Whoever believes in Him will never die. Like Martha, the Lord asks each one of us: "Do you believe this?"

If you believe that and I believe that, then we must live it. So often we meet people who look and act like they have no life. They are like Lazarus in the tomb, all bound up and tied in knots. Their lack of faith and trust in a loving God and Father is shown in the way they live their daily lives. If we truly belong to the Lord, then Resurrection is not something reserved only for a life hereafter. It is also part of our everyday lives. It is part of all those little deaths we suffer, all of our sickness and pain, all the difficulty and hardship we experience and endure. It is exactly through that pain and suffering that we find new life. It is the paschal mystery lived over and over again; the suffering, death and resurrection of the Lord of life. As people of faith we know the Lord is truly there to renew us, to encourage us and give us the strength to carry on and become His holy people.

Jesus raised Lazarus from the dead but He also made a request: "Untie him now and let him go free." By our example of faith we untie others and bring them freedom to become brothers and sisters in the Lord. There are many who live in the darkness of selfishness and sin, who long to see the brightness of a new day. There are others enslaved by past mistakes who need our compassion and forgiveness, our mercy and love. There are many who find life more like death and each day becomes more unbearable. We can be there for them when we visit the sick, comfort the afflicted, and share our hope with the hopeless. Believe it or not we have the power to untie the restraints binding the hopes and dreams of so many people, especially of our young people who see no future. The challenge we face each day is to bring vitality and life to our suffering world.

EDUCATION / EDUCACIÓN

Two Questions to Ponder

In this Period of Purification and Enlightenment, please pray for our Elect and Candidates as they continue preparing for the reception of the Sacraments of Initiation at the Easter Vigil. As we also continue our Lenten journey, we might reflect on two questions:

What connection does the dying and rising of Jesus Christ have to our daily lives?

How does the spiritual journey of those preparing for Christian initiation call our entire community to conversion?

Last week, one of the Scrutiny intercessions for the Elect was "that God may dispel darkness and be the light that shines in the hearts of the Elect." We pray that God also be the light that shines in the hearts of us all.

Thomas Merton Study: Bridges to Contemplative Living
