What Do You Radiate to Others?

In today's Gospel, the Lord concludes the parable of the sower by making this challenging invitation: "Anyone who has ears should listen." The Lord is asking us today to pay attention to the parable.

But upon what are we supposed to reflect? The sower? The seed? Perhaps the different kind of soil described? Traditionally, we Christians have focused almost exclusively on the soil where the seed falls in order to look at what our attitude is as we listen to the Gospel. However, it is also important to note the sower and his way of sowing.

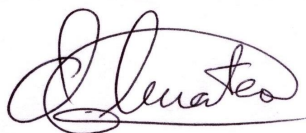

The first statement in the story is: "A sower went out to sow." And he does so not only with a surprising confidence, but abundantly. The seed falls all over the place, including where it seems impossible for it to germinate. That's how the farmers of Galilee did it: they sowed even on the sides of the paths and in rocky places. It's not hard to identify who the sower is. That's how Jesus sowed His message. The Apostles saw Him go out every morning to announce the Good News of God. He sowed His Word among the simple people who welcomed it, and also among the Scribes and Pharisees who rejected it. He never got tired. And His sowing won't be fruitless.

Overcome nowadays by a strong religious crisis, we can think that Jesus' Gospel has lost its original force and that His message no longer has power to attract the attention of men and women today. Certainly this is not a time to harvest resounding successes, but it is the moment to learn to sow without getting discouraged, with more humility and truth. It's not the Gospel that has lost its humanizing power, but ourselves who are announcing it with a weak and wavering faith. It's not Jesus that has lost His power to attract. We are the ones who have distorted Him with our senselessness and contradictions.

Our beloved Holy Father Pope Francis has said that "...when a Christian doesn't live close to Jesus, he quickly loses enthusiasm and stops being sure of what he is transmitting, he lacks power and passion. And a person who isn't convinced, enthusiastic, sure, in love, doesn't convince anyone."

Evangelizing today isn't just like propagating a doctrine, but making the humanizing and saving power of Jesus present in the midst of our society and in people's hearts. What's most decisive isn't the number of preachers or teachers of religion, but the evangelical quality that Christians radiate.

What are we spreading? Indifference or convinced faith? Mediocrity or a passion for a fuller, more human life?

Deer Problems? Deer Answer: Native Plants

Come visit the St. Rose Native Plant Demonstration Garden, located next to the lowest parking lot. These plants have been selected for their resistance to both deer and drought and are labeled for easy identification. Additionally, these native plants serve local farmers as pollinators, and are particularly beneficial to bees, birds, and butterflies so crucial for the cultivation of fruits and vegetables. The nine milkweed plants and variety of succulents have enabled us to receive certification as an official Monarch Butterfly Waystation, a place to pause on their long journey to Canada. The Native Plant Garden was developed by the St. Rose Eco Action Team. INFO: Pat Cuff, pmcuff@aol.com, or Kristen Sirotkin, krissirotkin@verizon.net

InterFaith Works Women's Shelter Flooded! Urgent Need for Donated Items & Cash!

On June 12, the sewer line at the shelter failed and flooded one of the dorm rooms housing 19 shelter residents, causing considerable property and personal belonging damage. The residents bear the heaviest losses, as the few items they own were contaminated and needed to be discarded. Due to the nature and timing of this emergency, InterFaith Works is requesting urgently needed items and cash donations only (towels, water bottles, and laundry detergent). These items and monetary donations can be dropped off directly to the shelter, located at 2 Taft Court, Rockville, MD. Thank you for responding generously to this urgent need. INFO: Sherry, smoitoza@strose.com
